Work Experience

Neptune
2012 to Present
Design Executive

At Neptune, I've been rocking the role of Design Executive for over 12 years. From managing the design process to keeping the communication lines open with our clients, I've been the go-to person for getting things done. The management has given me a few pats on the back, recognizing the fire I bring to the table.

Raxlogo
2018 to Present
Founder & Creative Director

I'm the brains and brawn behind Raxlogo, serving as the Founder & Creative Director. I've been steering the ship, from guiding the design process to keeping the clients in the loop. My fingerprints are all over the company's branding efforts, thanks to my killer instincts. Despite a few bumps in the road, I've gained some serious experience and left my mark on some pretty big projects. Working in an environment filled with positivity and collaboration, I've seen firsthand the power of teamwork in action.
